

MICHIGAN - SINGLE DISTRICT 10

DA YOOPERS of Michigan is the upper peninsula of Michigan and is often referred to as “The U.P.”, and that’s where the name “Da Yoopers” derived. It is separated from the lower peninsula by the Straits of Mackinaw, which joins Lake Huron and Lake Michigan. The U.P. is economically important to the state because of its tourist attractions, as well as its vast deposits of iron ore. See MD 11, Michigan, for other facts about the State of Michigan.
